

Turbonomic Technical Poster Goodness

As a long-time fan of the technical posters that came out of the vCommunity and PowerShell community, I was very happy to have a chance to work with Rene Van Den Bedem (aka @VCDX133) on something fun at Turbonomic. Rene and I teamed up to craft the first official Turbonomic Technical poster for Turbonomic version 5.9 that you can download in PDF format right from the Green Circle Community

Big thanks to Rene for all that he has done to help my team with this, and of course for all of his continued support of many community efforts across all of our shared IT communities.
