In this episode, we chat with Trevor Pott (@cakeis_not_alie) about a wide array of content. We tackle the challenges of SMB and mid-market IT, why public cloud and SaaS just doesn't work for many, what's coming in IT, and very valuable insight into what it takes to have integrity and trust as a vendor and community member.

We also learn what could be my new favourite way to describe an interesting market space which is food truck IT.
