The Clubhouse.io team put out a blog post on the change here which details the new plan: <https://clubhouse.io/blog/free-plan/>

If you haven't already been using Clubhouse then I highly suggest you take a few minutes and listen to their recent episode on my podcast which you can get here: Clubhouse.io on the DiscoPosse Podcast

I am super happy for Kurt (@Kurt), Mitch (@MitchWainer), and the entire Clubhouse.io team.

Please join me in congratulating them at their company Twitter @Clubhouse on the update and get yourself signed up to join me in getting the best of myself and my team with collaboration and project and product management. If you have any questions, tips, or ideas on how you use Clubhouse, drop a comment below. I would love to hear more stories and ideas on how other folks in our industry are using software to better enable teams to work together and achieve their goals and positive outcomes.
