

Podcast Episode 110 - When the Dream Job Arrives but the Dream Changed - Pivoting in Careers with Lior Kamrat

What if you finally got your dream job and realized that the dream changed, or it only appeared like the dream job because you didn't have it? Lior Kamrat is a Senior Open Source Cloud and Solutions Architect who also does a vast amount of community-facing work to help others become a better self. Both as a technical and a lifestyle discussion, Lior shares how his first ideal job didn't actually work out the way it had been envisioned but that is completely fine!

This is a deep discussion on the challenges of evolving your career, yourself, your personal brand, and how sometimes the folks who you surround yourself with may not always be on the same path that you are. Lior is a fantastic guest because we are able to have a no holds barred discussion that will resonate with technologists everywhere.
