John McAfee is an entrepreneur, privacy advocate, and a man whose personality is larger than life, backed by an incredible life story and set of experiences. John believes that cryptocurrency offers a unique historical opportunity to the individual - a chance to liberate one's self, without violence, and to become more free.

This conversation explores the destruction of privacy, the need for freedom, the opportunity for cryptocurrency, and how governments and corporations are on an unprecedented path towards overreach. John's passion, knowledge, and experience are obvious with all that we discuss and a huge thanks go out to Janice McAfee, who is both his wife and Director of Media Relations, who put John and I together for the discussion.
