

Podcast

One of the most exciting areas I've been able to explore is a podcast format. Thanks to the community affiliation I have through the Green Circle Community, I am able to host a podcast with some very interesting guests, and tackle topics about people, process, and technology, at every layer of the stack.

The podcast is called GC On-Demand. You can follow the Twitter feed @gcOnDemand and go to gcOnDemand.io to see the episode list and show notes about each guest and topic.
