

Podcast Episode 94 - Charity Majors \(@mipsytipsy\) of @honeycombio on Observability: You Keep Using that Word...

Charity Majors (<https://charity.wtf>) is a returning guest to the podcast and someone whom I thoroughly respect and enjoy having a conversation with. As the co-founder of Honeycomb (<https://honeycomb.io>), Charity is leading her team to tackle some exciting challenges and share the value of observability with the world.

Join us as we discuss why most vendors and people in the industry are misusing the term Observability. Charity also answers some tough questions and shares great insights including the big question that I love to ask folks which you will hear as we cover so much amazing ground in this chat.

As the Princess Bride quote goes: "You keep using that word. I do not think it means what you think it means"
